

The Louhs In Person: Information about Speaking Engagements

Rev. Dr. Nicholas Louh and Dr. Roxanne Louh greatly value opportunities to serve. They are available together and individually as keynote speakers, retreat leaders, and panelists. They also accept requests for media interviews and to provide commentary on subjects of interest to them.

The Louhs place a high priority on their family, their church, and the prayer and study that makes their ministry possible. For this reason, they are not able to accept every invitation they receive. They are thankful for the miracle of live radio, which makes it possible to connect with so many people they might not have the opportunity to meet in person.
